

Cucumber Lemonade

Printed from Cucumber Recipes at <http://www.cucumberrecipes.co.uk/>

This is a refreshing drink that really makes the most out of cucumbers but in a totally different way. Serve over ice and with some fresh slices of cucumber and lemon in your glass at your next summer party.

Ingredients:

250ml water
100g caster sugar
1 cucumber
6 lemons

Directions:

1. Make a syrup with the water and caster sugar by placing both into a saucepan. Heat until the sugar is dissolved, but not boiling, then remove from the heat immediately and put into the fridge.
2. Chop the cucumber and put into a blender. Blitz until you have a pulp, then put the pulp into a sieve over a jug and sit or push through until you have 200ml juice or liquid.
3. Juice the lemons. Stir with the sugar syrup and cucumber liquid, then serve.
